ALL EASTERN VIRGINIA FOOT BALL TEAM SHOWS GREAT STRENGTH

Wilson Of The Indians Gains Center Position
On The Mythical Eleven

The time has now come for the selection of "all"-teams so we publish an All-Eastern Virginia football team chosen from the teams of the E. Va. I. A. A. The plan adopted in making this selection was one proposed by Coach Draper when he was approached in regard to making a selection for the Flat Hat. Instead of this team being the pick of one man, it has been formed after a consideration of fourteen selections made by different men of the William and Mary team.

We first consider the positions of quarterback and center as these proved easiest of selection. Thurman of Hampden-Sidney was the unanimous choice for the former place, and our own "Prexie" Wilson received every vote but his own for the center job. That vote was for Scott of R-M. For the wing positions Scott of Randolph Macon received fourteen votes and his running mate Christian received the next highest number. There were three other men mentioned: Roden of R. C., Amick of H-S., and Green of W. & M.

The four middle positions, guards and tackles, seemed to have the greatest number of men of all-star ability, seven men being suggested as possible guards. As some men were voted for as both guard and tackle the sum of the vote received was taken as the determining factor. Coburn, of R.-C., led with 12 votes; Bush, of R.-M., polled 11; Shackelford, of H.-S., 9; and Crisp, of H-S., 7. We place Bush and Shackelford in the tackle positions and choose Coburn and Crisp for our guards. For guard McNeal, of R.-C., received one more vote than Crisp but the latter had several votes for tackle and in addition won the championship for his team. Early and Wallace of the Indians both received several votes.

In the back field we find Lancaster of R.-M., and Pendleton, of H.-S., the favorites for the half positions. Bugg, of H.-S., received 12 votes for full and one half-back vote, so he is chosen to fill the other vacancy. Gale, of the locals, had several votes for credit and Cosby, of R. C., pushed Pendleton hard.

We believe this method of choosing an all-star team is the most effective possible, for we have the composite of many minds, and those who have made the selections have played against and with the men chosen.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTS IN EARNEST. SCHEDULE COMPLETED

Four Monogram Men Returning to Form and Many New Men Showing up Well

Manager Tilley has arranged his schedule with the exception of a definite agreement upon the date of the last game with Hampden-Sidney. The season opens here Monday the 13th with the team from Union Theological Seminary of Richmond as the opponents. This game should give a good line on the strength of the varsity, for the preachers' generally turn out a strong quint with several former college stars upon it. Then follows a game with the Howitzers in Richmond on the eighteenth and the next game is not played until after the Christmas holidays. Between the holidays and intermediate examinations the Richmond Howitzers and Blues are both met on the local floor.

On February the third the trip is begun when the Richmond Blues are tackled in Richmond. Virginia Christian College is then met at Lynchburg, and on the night of the 5th the V. M. I. Cadets are played at Lexington. There is some possibility of a jump being made to Washington for a game or two but as yet no contest has been scheduled.

Back from the hard trip to Lexington the championship series is opened here on the ninth with a game with Richmond College. The other teams are played in order and the season is closed by the Hampden-Sidney game here. This date has not been decided upon as the Farmville team wishes to play Richmond College on the same trip, but it is most probable that the game will be played on the 10th or 11th of March. The schedule as now completed is as follows:

Dec. 13—Union Theol. Sem., at home.

Dec. 18—Richmond Howitzers, at Richmond.

Jan. 8—Richmond Howitzers, at home.

Jan. 15—Richmond Blues, at home.

Feb. 3—Richmond Blues, at Richmond.

Feb. 4—Va. Christian College, at Lynchburg.

Feb. 5—V. M. I., at Lexington.

THANKSGIVING GERMAN A LARGE AND BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

Many Visitors Enjoy Hospitality Of German Club At Annual Holiday Dance

Friday evening the Gymnasium was the scene of the annual Thanksgiving German given by the German Club. The hall was decorated in the College colors, and with the throng of dancers afforded a brilliant scene of gayety and beauty. Even Dame Nature united with the dancers in making the evening the more enjoyable, for the crisp fall air made the weather all that could be desired. There were visiting girls from all parts of the state, and several parties from Richmond and visiting Alumni helped swell the number of the dancers beyond any previous mid-term dance.

Again the music rendered by Hülcher's orchestra of Norfolk came up to all expectations, and several of the selections were enquired again and again. Two pretty German figures were led by Mr. Christian with the usual skill and success which characterizes his work as a leader.

At about half past eleven refreshments were served and after that the dance continued with increasing zest until one o'clock sounded the hour of departure.

Among those dancing were: Miss Green, of Norfolk, with Geo. Lane; Miss Martha Spencer with A. P. Tucker; Miss Fletcher, of Richmond, with Thorpe; Miss Bozarth with A. D. Parker; Miss Moomaw, of Dublin with Bob Newton; Miss Harrison with W. C. Ferguson; Miss Atkinson with Sutherlin, Miss Carrie Cole Lane with Nottingham; Miss Mary Cary Moncure with Jim Early, Miss Peachy with R. James; Miss M. B. Spencer with Henley; Miss Rowe with A. P. Robinson; Miss Mabel Brooks with Dalhouse; Miss Winn, of Richmond with Robinson; Miss Upchurch with Henry Moncure; Miss Margaret Brooks, of Richmond, with Hall; Miss Todd, of Norfolk, with L. Roberts; Miss Macon with S. H. Hubbard; Miss A. Ruffin with W. L. Parker; Miss Margaret Tyler with Tolson; Miss Mary Lyon Tyler with Jim Lane; Miss Mary Ware Galt with Gayle; Miss Lee with Williams; Miss Lucile Foster with Miller; Miss Arnold with Shackelford; Miss Smith

ALPHA CHAPTER OF PHI BETA KAPPA HOLDS ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Judge Duke And Hon. Armistead C. Gordon
Orator And Poet Of The Occasion

On Saturday night the Alpha chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa held its annual celebration in the College Chapel. The exercises were opened by Mr. R. M. Hughes, the president of the Alpha Chapter. Mr. Hughes introduced Armistead C. Gordon, the poet of the occasion, who read one of his poems entitled, "De Profundis."

Mr. Hughes then presented to the audience, Judge R. G. W. Duke, Jr. the speaker of the evening. Judge Duke's subject, "The Making of History," was presented in a most interesting way. He prefaced his speech by showing that the ordinary use of the phrase "the making of history" is erroneous as the making of history is the relating of events. According to Judge Duke there are three kinds of history; the artistic, the practical, and the sociological. Artistic history is written to please the fancy; practical history, to advance the writer or his views; and sociological history to give information about past events in a systematic and scientific way. Artistic history consists of the myths of by gone ages. Practical history is exemplified by many accounts of the American Civil War, some of which even attempt to darken the fame of "the Noblest Nation that ever rose immaculate to fall unstained." Sociological history is exemplified by the work of such master as Gibbon and Mommsen. Judge Duke closed his speech with an impassioned appeal to the students to seek the truth.

After the speech the initiation was held and then followed the reception in the library to the members and invited guests of the Phi Beta Kappa. Thus the celebration of the one hundred thirty-ninth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity at William and Mary was brought to a delightful close.

Those declared eligible to wear the coveted key were: As members causa honoris, Dr. James Sprunt, of Wilmington, N. C., Howard B. Payne, of New York, and Robert A. Lancaster, of Richmond; as alumni members, Dr. Cary Grayson, of Washington; Colonel Joseph E. Bidgood, John B. Terrell, J. Harper Brent, of Richmond; R. C. Young, of Missouri; A. R. Koontz, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1915

With the football season now at an end, all eyes are turned toward the Gymnasium, where every evening the candidates for the varsity basketball team are put through the preliminary work outs. Coach Draper also has many other teams practicing at different hours, from which many good players will ultimately develop, but at present our championship hopes are centered in those few men who may be seen each evening practicing from five until six.

Four monogram men have returned and are out working hard for their positions. Captain Jones, forward; Gayle, center; and the two "Z" guards, Zehmer and Zion, are the Varsity material at hand for the nucleus of the 1915-16 quint.

Of last year's second team there are Geddy, Lane, Wallace, Robertson and Williams, while Capt. Spencer, Wilson and Adams, of the Academy team, are now in College. The whole squad is showing up well, and with this experienced material Dr. Draper should have little difficulty in developing a winning team.

Dr. Thomas Jefferson Stubbs

William and Mary men, from Accomac to Lee, mourn their Alma Mater's loss in the passing of their beloved counselor and warm-hearted friend, Dr. Thomas Jefferson Stubbs. Purity of heart and rectitude of life were written in his countenance. To know him was to love him. To follow him, was to stand for true manhood and all 'that doth become a man.'

The sun of a useful life sets. Shadows fall across the pathway of his loved ones. Yet he lives. His sympathetic, kindly spirit blesses us, and will continue a benediction to him long after the millenniums of God's great Eternity shall have become infinite in number. The Lord rest his spirit!

J. N. Hillman, '05.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, Almighty God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to call to his presence the soul of our beloved friend and counselor, Dr. Thomas Jefferson Stubbs, be it

Resolved, That the students of the College of William and Mary and the world at large have lost a valuable and esteemed man. That while bowing in humble submission to His divine will, we do deeply regret and mourn the loss of a true friend and advisor. Be it

Resolved further, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them and also published in the college paper.

Com. of Student Council.

Academy Basketball

The Academy basketball team has been practicing for the last week, but as was the case last year the team is again handicapped by having to practice at night after ten o'clock. Of last year's team Capt. Somers, Ellis, Tomlinson and Murphy are back. Several of the new men have all the qualifications of good players, and under the skillful coaching of Prof. Hubbard should be able to give a good account of themselves before the season is over.

Manager Ellis has scheduled ten games, the first of which will be played here on Friday the tenth. The following is the schedule:

Dec. 10—Portsmouth High, at home.
Dec. 17—St. Paul Academy, at home.
Jan. 13—Newport News High, at Newport News.
Jan. 14—Maury High at Norfolk.
Jan. 15—Portsmouth High, at Portsmouth.
Jan. 21—John Marshall High, at home.
Feb. 11—St. Paul Academy, at Portsmouth.
Feb. 18—Old Point College, at home.
Feb. 25—Newport News, at home.
Mar. 3—Maury High, at home.

Miss Cecil Moomaw, of Dublin, Va., is visiting at "Sunnybrook," the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Calhoun.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

H. W. Thorpe, manager of the debating team, was in Richmond last week to arrange for the Triangular debate with Randolph-Macon and Hampden-Sidney. The question decided upon is the same as that for the debate with Roanoke College: Resolved, That the United States should retain the Monroe Doctrine as an important document in regard to her foreign relations. Both contests will take place some time in the early spring.

Captain Wallace, "How much time left to play?"

Time-keeper: "Six more minutes."
"Giraffe" (who has been in the game at least four minutes) "My goodness, mister, your watch must have stopped!"

Many alumni were back for the Phi Beta Kappa celebration and the Thanksgiving German. Among those noted on the campus were: Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Messrs. R. C. Young, W. K. Doty, A. R. Koonty, A. F. English, R. O. Palmer, F. E. Graves, W. L. Parker, A. F. Beale, J. H. Brent, J. B. Terrell, and J. E. Bidgood.

There will be a meeting of Sigma Upsilon on Friday night at half past seven o'clock at the Kappa Sigma house.

Dr. Draper expects to have three or four soccer teams out in a few days, and two fields will be laid off for the game.

The departments of Physics, History, and Art have purchased jointly a new projection lantern. The instrument is the most modern and mechanically perfect that could be obtained in this country.

A letter received from O. W. Frey Editor-in-Chief of the Flat Hat 1914-15, shows him at the University of Pennsylvania where he is studying law.

There are rumors of the beginning of a romance with one of our dormitoryites the victim.

It was the same old "Bushky" the boys found in Newark. Hasn't changed a bit.

The organization of the Rifle Club is well under way now, and work will be begun on the range in a few days. The charter has been granted by the National Rifle Association, and ammunition and rifles will soon be obtained from the War Department.

Karl Jansen Delivers Lecture

Students and people of the town were treated to an excellent address last Thursday night by Karl Jansen, the Swedish Humorist and Entertainer, from "the land of the midnight sun." He urged the students, who would soon become teachers, to give expression to their work while teaching. The ludicrous impersonations which he brought out in order to drive home his points, were especially good—impersonating al-

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Mr. Hounsdel will be the speaker at the devotional meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, and will also conduct Chapel services Wednesday and Thursday. Since his graduation from Vanderbilt University, Mr. Hounsdel has spent a period of service as a missionary in Korea. At present, while on furlough, he has been preeminently successful as Traveling Secretary of The Student Volunteer Movement. His knowledge of conditions in the foreign fields and his close touch with student life in this country, makes him peculiarly fitted for the work. As he is a speaker in great demand the College Y. M. C. A. is fortunate to secure a visit from him and courtesy to Mr. Hounsdel demands a large attendance.

This is an opportune time to have Mr. Hounsdel here. Six William and Mary delegates to the Y. M. C. A. convention at Richmond returned full of new plans and methods of work. His presence and the helpful suggestions which can be obtained will be a great stimulus to more active work. His breadth of view will be of great value to our president in the solution of some of the problems confronting him in inaugurating his new ideas.

At the last meeting of the Cabinet, it was decided that a petition be presented the Board of Visitors to secure aid in having a partition constructed to divide the room in the Gymnasium. One of these rooms will be used for Cabinet meetings—also by other College organizations—and the other is to be fitted out for a reading and recreation room.

most everything from the cuckoo to the characters in Macbeth.

He recommended four minutes of exercise every day which would develop all of the muscles of the body enabling one to be young at seventy. The advice that he gave his audience was, "never do the best you can all the time" for you will be called upon to do better sometime and will fail to do it.

His last and best features of the program was his impersonation of some of the characters of Macbeth, and the history of the dances.

Jansen is one of the best speakers whom we have heard for some time and more of his kind would serve as great monotony-breakers.

COLLEGE COMMENT

The students at Vassar are having an extended discussion in regard to required chapel. Conference are held and many different ideas have been set forth.

The Intercollegiate Socialist Society will hold its seventh Annual Convention in New York City Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 28, 29 and 30. The society has sixty-four chapters in the various colleges and universities of the United States and all college students are invited to attend the convention.

At Cornell University there is a plan on foot to abolish the honor system. It is interesting to note that an old William and Mary man, Walter Nourse, is taking an active part in supporting the honor system.

The University of Washington is now teaching her students how to rescue persons from drowning, and the methods of resuscitation. The swimming pool affords the laboratory.

Plans of the grounds and buildings of Vassar were recently examined with a view of turning the college into a fortress in case of war.

When the American Dialect Society publishes their dialect dictionary there will be a department devoted to student slang.

The universities of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Vanderbilt now have an agreement by which one professor from each university goes to some other institution to hold a series of lectures. This is the second year the agreement has been in effect.

The president of Dartmouth has resigned and accepted a position as a professor of Physics at Yale.

The University of Minnesota and Washington University, of St. Louis, have abolished baseball as an inter-collegiate sport. Football has been abolished at the Carlisle Indian school.

Another Virginia college has begun the publication of a weekly paper. Our latest "Volume I" exchange is the "Crito-graph" from Virginia Christian College.

Academy-Alumni Game

Cary Field was the scene of some peppery football playing Wednesday afternoon when the Academy eleven engaged the Academy alumni, now in college, for a pigskin contest. Both teams showed unusual football aggressiveness and the scoreless tie is an indication of the bitterness of the battle.

Lohr's ground-gaining was the feature of the alumni's playing, while the preps. worked the forward pass successfully on several occasions. "Monk" Ellis got away for several pretty runs, eluding the alumni tacklers for material gains. The alumni came dangerously near scoring in the third quarter when they had the ball on the 11 yard line but failed to make first down.
